

Inside Team

A decorative horizontal bar consisting of a series of parallel diagonal lines in a light gray color, extending across the width of the page.

An Insightful, Mindful, and Strategic Retreat for Leaders

As a leader you are faced with challenges that can stretch your problem solving, decision-making, and interpersonal skills. Can you remember times when you were stuck or found yourself repeating the same behaviors? Do you recall listening to your inner self-talk that drove you to a particular outcome – desirable or undesirable?

We all have a team of inner voices, beliefs, and aspects of our personalities that can work together, collude with one another and sometimes sabotage our best intentions. These inner players are ingrained so deeply that we react automatically based on past experiences and old beliefs. Our lives are so busy that we don't stop to question what the inner team is really trying to say and to examine what's important and relevant now. Our inner teams have been there for us through thick and thin. They are strengths and often times can become overused and tired.

The "Inside Team" is a CRR Global modality we use at Halo Partners with clients. The process brings these "Inside Team Players" into awareness. Our clients then consciously redesign how they want their Inside Team to operate. Clients walk away with new inner alliances and choices that move them powerfully forward.

We customize strategic retreats for leaders, offering a block of time with the three managing partners of Halo-- to brainstorm, explore perspectives and strategies, and reconfigure the Inside Team. These retreats get rave reviews from our clients.

From a client: I had the opportunity to recently spend an afternoon with Halo Partners exploring an 'inside team' framework and I must say it was one of the most thought provoking and clarifying thought exercises in which I've participated. I left with a similar feeling of insight that you might get after going to an executive education program. I find myself referencing my 'inside team' often — sometimes more than once a day and find that it helps me stay balanced, make tough decisions, and gives me a great sense of internal alignment to lead my team and company. I'd highly recommend it to any exec looking to re-center and gear up!

- Tom Leung, CEO, Yabbly

About Halo Partners LLC

At Halo Partners LLC, we work with leaders, teams and organizations to develop the potential in your people, increase your impact, build your brand, and create success. We have assembled a large collaborative team that can engage with you to develop your people at multiple levels. We offer all levels of coaching (1:1, team, leadership) as well as workshops and train-the-trainer programs. If you need to scale up, we have experienced ICF-certified coaches on board. If you need other realms of expertise, we have collaborative partners to serve your needs.

For more information, go to www.halopartnersllc.com or email info@halopartnersllc.com.

